Princess Kalaniana'ole, who returned this week from Washington.

Miss Laura Atherton's Bridge.

Huge double pink hibiscus are being used in the decorative scheme today at Miss Laura Atherton's card party for Miss Carrie McLean. These lovely flowers have suddenly become greatly appreciated by Honolulu hostesses and one finds them used everywhere in place of the more expensive but scarcely less beautiful roses. Arranged in great bowls and jardiniere with ferns and other tropical greens, they seem just the right sort of decoration for a jolly party as in the case of today's affair. Those invited to meet Miss McLean were Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Helen McLean, Miss Letitia Morgan, Mrs. Jack Young, Miss Sara Pratt, Mrs. Lorrin Smith, Miss Mary O'Brien, Miss Nellie Marshall, Miss May Marshall, Mrs. Frank Hoogs, Mrs. John B. Guard, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Isabelle McCorriston, Miss Florence Gurvey, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Marjory Gilman and Miss Violet Atherton.

Unique Picture Show.

About thirty guests, with their children, were entertained in a novel manner Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Trenholm Warren on Kewalo and Lunalilo streets, when the host exhibited for the first time his kodiotopion, which is the first machine of its kind to make its appearance in Honolulu. The surprise of the evening came when, with the aid of the kodiotopion, Mr. Warren showed some of the new lantern slides made on films printed from kodak negatives, something quite new and especially interesting to the guests as some of the pictures showed the children of some of the guests in characteristic poses, the film slides having been made, unknown to the mothers of the juveniles, from snapshots taken at the beach or home. A home moving-picture machine was also a feature of the evening's fun, and several reels of films were shown which were especially appreciated by the children present. During the intermission ice cream was served and music was enjoyed later.

Mrs. Tenney Honored.

Mrs. Edward Tenney, one of the hostesses of Honolulu at whose home many visiting San Franciscans have been entertained, was guest of honor at a dinner dance which Colonel and Mrs. Thomas Rees gave at their home on Monday. Mrs. Tenney leaves early in October for her home in the islands after a delightful summer in this city, where she has been much entertained. Colonel and Mrs. Rees and Miss Dorothy Rees go to Honolulu later in the winter on a visit of several weeks. Mrs. Rees had her pretty home in Locust street adorned plentifully with American Beauty roses and lilies. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Walker, recently home from Honolulu; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Boyer, Major and Mrs. Joseph Knowlton, Mrs. E. C. Greenfield, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Potter, Major Kenney Hampton, Major Samuel Bottoms, Lieutenant Nelson and Major Sherwood A. Cheney.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. Hayselden's Tennis Tea.

Mrs. Harold Hayselden is entertaining this afternoon in a most delightful manner for a tropical day. Armed with rackets and bathing suits, the guests are trying their luck on tennis court and in swimming pool. Among those invited are the Misses Ward, Miss Mary Catten, Miss Margaret Catten, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Nesta Mercer, Miss Hazel Auld, Miss Betty Case, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. George Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith, Canon and Mrs. Ault, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dekum, Mrs. S. Gordon, the Misses Genevieve and Christiana Bradley, Major A. S. Conklin, Mr. E. N. Howe, Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Reginald Carter, Mr. Harry Hoffman, Mr. L. Y. Carruthers, Mr. Thomas Gray, Mr. Albert Clark, Miss Louise Lucas, and others.

Lloyd-Edgill.

A pretty home wedding was celebrated on September 17 at the residence of Mr. A. Foster on California streets, San Francisco, when Miss Edgill H. Edgill was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Lloyd, of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company. Miss Edgill (the daughter of Mrs. A. Foster) is of the perfect blond type, and of unusual height. She looked stunning in a robe of palest blue brocade charmeuse over white satin, with old lace, an heirloom in her mother's family. The bride was attended by Miss K. Leicari, who was dressed in white figured grenadine over pink satin. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, and the maid of honor carried pink bride roses. The house was decorated in pink roses and ferns. Mr. G. Nickerson, an old friend of the bridegroom, acted as best man. After the wedding supper the happy pair left for a short trip amid showers of rice and best wishes from all present.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier's Anniversary Dance.

One of the largest and most delightful affairs of the week was the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Frazier to celebrate their 10th anniversary or "tin wedding." Although two hundred or more guests were present, the occasion was marked with great informality. Kaala's orchestra dispensed lively tunes all through the evening and those who wished danced; the broad lanais of the Frazier home making a splendid place for tripping the light fantastic. A number of less energetic ones, who shook their heads at the thermometer, devoted the evening to auction bridge. A surprise to the host and hostess came at about 10 o'clock, when they were showered with articles of tinware—everything from a set of tin spoons to a jolly mould helmet with horns, and plates to make a noise, were heaped upon them. Mrs. Frazier wore her wedding gown for the occasion—a frock of white chiffon over satin with embellishments of lace, which with its yards and yards of fullness in the skirt, was strikingly in contrast with the sheath gowns of today. Beautiful roses were all over the house, gifts from appreciative friends who knew the secret of the day's celebration. Palms, ferns and hanging baskets completed the decorations.

Mrs. Jordan's Bridge.

A very delightful bridge tea was given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. R. W. Jordan for which Mrs. B. W. Colley was the motif. A dozen or more ladies devoted the afternoon to royal auction, while a number of others came in to tea. The prizes for bridge were beautiful hand-made bags, Mrs. Colley, Mrs. Emil Waterman and Mrs. D. Appel being the fortunate ladies to hold the highest scores. Among those present were the guest of honor, Mrs. Colley and Miss Anne Danford, Mrs. Emil Waterman, Mrs. Frank Halstead, Mrs. Daniel Appel, Mrs. Harold Hayselden, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Lees, Mrs. Allan Bottomley, Mrs. Robert Lanze, Miss Victoria Jordan, Mrs. L. B. Waterhouse, Miss Agnes Alexander, Miss Emily Farley, Miss Agnes Judd, Mrs. Margaret Waterhouse, Mrs. Arthur Smith and others.

Miss Sara Pratt's Luncheon.

Miss Carrie McLean, whose marriage to Mr. Alfred Eames will be an event of next week, was the hostess at a beautiful luncheon last Saturday at the University Club, at which Miss Sara Pratt was hostess. The table was decorated with white asters and pale pink carnations arranged in a silver loving cup as a centerpiece. Other blossoms were strewn daintily about the table. Among those present were Miss Carrie McLean, Miss Helen McLean, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Laura Atherton, Mrs. W. Ginaca, Miss Violet Atherton, Mrs. Ray Rietow, Mrs. Lorrin Smith, Miss Marjory Gilman and Mrs. John B. Guard.

Mrs. Hayselden's Dinner.

One of the prettiest dinners given at the Pleasanton on Thursday night was that at which Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hayselden were hosts. The table was daintily decorated in lavender and pink, the color scheme being carried out with ragged asters and tulips. Baskets of violets painted on linen cards were used to mark the places. After dinner the guests devoted the time to dancing or being spectators thereof. Those who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Hayselden's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Colley, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hocking, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead.

Mau Reading Club.

On Saturday last, the Misses Lindsay entertained the ladies of the Reading Club at their beautiful home in Haku. This, by the way, is one of the loveliest places on Maui—a quaint old fashioned home in a large garden full of trees. The ladies brought their sewing and spent the afternoon in a sociable way getting acquainted with the new members. Tea, coffee and sandwiches were served at about four-thirty. Forty ladies in all were present. This was one of the first meetings after the summer vacation.

Lieut. and Mrs. Mathews' Dinner.

A very jolly affair was given on Tuesday evening when Lieut. and Mrs. L. O. Mathews entertained at dinner in honor of Lieut. L. M. Silvester, whose birthday it was. The young officer was considerably surprised by finding a number of small gifts at his place, not knowing that he had been the motif for the occasion. Others present were Miss Katherine Lenihan, Miss Lenihan, Dr. Leo Mudd and the host and hostess.

Bridge for Mrs. Gleescke.

Mrs. Arthur Fletcher of Kaimuki entertained at auction bridge for Mrs. Ernest Gleescke and Miss Meiniger. ## Mr. and Mrs. de Bretteville's Dinner.

Among the many delightful dinners given at the Pleasanton on Thursday night was that at which Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Bretteville entertained. Sunflowers and yellow lights were used to carry out the golden idea. After dinner the guests joined in the general dancing on the lanai. Among Mr. and Mrs. de Bretteville's guests were Mrs. T. Sorenson, Miss Anna Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Moiler, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mrs. Alice Brown and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hede-mann.

Poi Supper for Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole.

The friends of Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole without doubt lost little time in entertaining for them after their arrival from Washington on Tuesday. Scarcely were they established within their ancestral walls, their trunks unpacked, when the invitations were out for a poi supper in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Colburn were the leading spirits of the affair, others present being Col. Sam Parker, Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ashford, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Widemann, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mr. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. H. Roth, Mrs. Gus Schmidt, Mrs. Reis, Miss Bernice Cook, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Booth, Judge and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson and the Misses Colburn (4).

The table was beautifully banked with golden rod and ferns. An old-fashioned Hawaiian supper the viands of which can be appreciated only by a "really truly" hamaaina, was served.

Dinner on Board the Ringgold.

A delightful dinner was given last Saturday evening by Lieut. H. F. Colley on board the mine planter Ringgold. Pink roses were used on the table, while dainty Hawaiian cards marked the places. After dinner the party motored out to Fort Shafter, where they attended the hop. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Wickham, Miss MacDonald, Miss Helen Spalcing, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Lieut. George Halloran, Lieut. N. Campaolo and the host, Lieut. H. F. Colley.

Capt. and Mrs. Lister's Dinner.

To the outsider it seems as if life in the service were one continuous party. And however serious the business side of their life may be, it is indubitably true that they entertain a great deal—noticeably more than the civilian set—and with a spirit of informality that makes even their conventional functions delightful. An event greatly anticipated by those invited is the dinner this evening at which Capt. and Mrs. Lister are hosts. Among their guests will be Capt. and Mrs. E. K. Massee, Capt. and Mrs. B. O. Mahaffey, and Lieut. and Mrs. Samuel Gordon of the navy.

Fort Ruger Bridge Club.

Those who will be present are Capt. and Mrs. John S. Johnston, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Clark, Capt. and Mrs. Frederick Philsterer, Capt. and Mrs. W. Hicks, Capt. and Mrs. Francis Hinkle, Dr. Frank D. Applin, Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick Barker, Miss Florence Hoffman, H. E. Hoffman, Col. William Rafferty, Capt. and Mrs. Norris Stayton, Capt. and Mrs. C. W. Waller, Lieut. and Mrs. H. F. Nichols, and Mrs. MacDonald.

Mrs. John S. Graham, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, who will spend the winter months in the islands.

venient little coinholder of silver was won by Mrs. J. J. Briser, Mrs. Edwin Benner capturing the second, a violet vase. A Hawaiian pin as the violet prize was presented to Miss Johnson.

Major and Mrs. Myers' Dinner.

Major and Mrs. John T. Myers were delightful hosts on Thursday night when they entertained at dinner in their home on Kinau street. Ebbitt, Miss Margaret Walker, Mr. Walker and the host and hostess. Major and Mrs. Myers are planning to give a number of dinners in the future, this being the first of the series.
